Thanks for an interesting news letter, I look forward to the next one.

I have just re-engined my 26ft runabout and have gone from the Mercruiser 4.3 190hp to the MFI 220hp. With counter rotating legs, what would the recommended four blade props be.. At the moment the motors will only rev to 4200rpm, My boat is on Bribie Island and I am in Durban so I am not able to give the current prop dimensions. Do I need to reduce the current pitch by one or two inches to get the max recommended rpm Your valued advice is appreciated.
Regards

CAPTAIN'S BRIEFING

Welcome to our June '08 edition and to Melbourne's winter, where open fires, a glass of red and the footy onTV seem so perfect.

It's been an interesting time on the water, sadly with tragic accidents over the past few weeks both in Sydney and Melbourne taking precious life. Both accidents which are still under investigation by Police and Marine Safety, have taken the spotlight away from what has been another terrific boating season on the water.

With wonderful weather, clean waterways, good fishing and new boating destinations being built around our bay "Life's Better With A Boat".

With vessel registrations up on 2006, the national 2007 registration numbers broken down by state are as follows;

WA	85,334
SA	55,123
TAS	25,365
QLD	212,545
